

The School of Behavioral Science is home to many academic programs, both undergraduate and graduate. These programs are offered through the following academic departments.

Behavioral Sciences Department

Department of Graduate Counseling

Additionally, Grace College offers online and hybrid degree programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels through the School of Adult and Community Education, which are described in each program's individual catalog section. Offerings relevant to the field of behavioral science include:

Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling